

English Literature, Stage 1, Welcome Week (Q306)

You may hear this week being called induction week or welcome week. In the School of English Literature, Language and Linguistics (SELLL), we prefer Welcome Week, as we are welcoming you to our city, Campus, and community.

The week has been planned to give you:

- Opportunities to form connections with your peers, teachers, and professional service colleagues in the school.
- An understanding of our inclusive culture both within the school and the wider University.
- A network of support that will help guide you through the initial weeks and those beyond.
- A sense of independence and autonomy, for your education but also the lifestyle you want to explore during your journey with us.
